Informal Walkthrough Access Review:

A walkthrough access review is an informal study of the accessibility of your premises carried out with you or a member of your staff. We will discuss all our findings with you and suggest possible improvements where required. Upon completion you will receive an overview of our findings and any recommendations we may have.

Once we have carried out a Walkthrough Access Review you will receive a checklist of areas of improvements. You will also have access to our support service which provides help from our team on your access issues. All our team are highly trained in the area of access and issues relating to disability.

You will also receive a certificate and be added to our accessible companies directory at www.accessible-news.co.uk. As well as this we will help advertise your business when appropriate.

Physical Access Audit:

This service involves members of the Accessible Wales team carrying out a detailed audit of your premises. While carrying out this audit we will take measurements and photographs of all aspects of the access to your premises. Once the audit has been completed we will provide you with a detailed report containing outlining areas of good and bad access and making recommendations as required to improve access. Our reports are supported by photographs and measurements and underpinned by appropriate legislation and relevant building regulations.

Design Access Audit:

As opposed to the previous Access Audit which deals with physical access to buildings this service is based around auditing the design of schematic diagrams and plans. This audit involves studying the plans and compiling a report making recommendations underpinned by appropriate legislation and relevant building regulations. This service is ideal for clients who are either going through refurbishment of their premises or having major building work carried out.

Is a disability obvious? NO! People with hearing impairments, visual impairments and people with mental health issues all have access requirements. Our review covers these as well as physical access such as ramps and steps. In all the work we carry out highlight areas of good and bad access
